FOR YOU: VA Immunizations on My HealthVet

Immunizations, also called vaccines, help your body fight certain diseases. Immunizations can help prevent illnesses such as influenza (the flu), pneumonia, hepatitis, measles, mumps and chicken pox or shingles. Vaccines may not always keep you from getting a disease, but it will be less serious. For example, the flu vaccine may keep you from getting a “full blown” case of the flu.

Have you ever wondered why you need certain vaccinations? Do you remember if you had a particular vaccine and the date you received it? You can find answers to these and other important questions about your VA and self-entered immunizations through VA Blue Button at My HealthVet (www.myhealth.va.gov).
